Spring Newsletter 2023

Beloved supporters of The Tia Foundation,

We are overjoyed to share some exciting Tia updates as we gear up for the much-awaited Spring season.

Our recent partnership trip with Arizona State University's Edson
College of Nursing and Health Innovations was a tremendous success. Our team provided crucial medical care to over 500 community members in Ahualulco de Mercado, Jalisco, Mexico, and graduated 49 Promotores.
These newly equipped Promotores can now transform the lives of over 24,000 people in their communities. Such trips are instrumental to our mission of assessing community needs and providing essential care. We sincerely appreciate the unwavering support of our partners, sponsors, and donors, enabling us to influence the lives of rural Mexico's inhabitants.

We are delighted to announce that we have reached a significant milestone of providing medical care to over 751,000 community members throughout Mexico in our 17 years as an organization. This remarkable achievement is a testament to the power of collaboration and the generosity of our supporters. Together, we have transformed countless lives, and it is inspiring to see what we can achieve with a shared goal. We cannot thank our generous supporters enough for their continued devotion.

We are also excited to share that we will embark on a new trip to Mexico in September with our new Phoenix-based partners, the Navi Nurses. Our founder, Laura, met ASU alum Jasmine Bhatti, the CEO of Navi, during a difficult time in her family's lives when Laura's mother required intensive home medical care. Jasmine and her gold-hearted nursing team demonstrated remarkable competence and attentiveness, and we are excited to work together to make a difference. We encourage you to visit the Navi Nurses website at www.navinurses.com to learn more about their fantastic organization.

Looking ahead, we are eager to undertake several new fundraising initiatives. Our founder, Laura Libman, will travel to New York in May and June to meet with potential donors, partners, grant makers, and future board members. We welcome the opportunity to expand our network of supporters and would be delighted to arrange meetings with anyone interested in supporting our mission. With the support of these individuals and organizations, we can extend our reach, enhance our programs, and ultimately make a more significant positive impact throughout rural Mexico. Please contact us if you or anyone you know would be interested in supporting our mission.

We are also pleased to welcome Austin Reed to our team as our Program and Marketing Director. Austin is an experienced digital marketer and creator with years of practice as a professional photographer, videographer, and social media brand manager. His professional background also includes direct involvement in sales, logistics, event management, entrepreneurship, emergency medicine, and hospitality. Austin graduated summa cum laude from the W. P. Carey School of Business at Arizona State University with a Bachelor of Science in Digital Marketing, a minor in Spanish Language and Culture, and certificates in International Business and Social Inclusion. His extensive experience will undoubtedly bolster our efforts to positively impact Tia's mission in the coming months and years.

Finally, we share the sad news of the recent passing of Laura's mother, Carmen. Carmen was a remarkable woman who cared deeply for the less fortunate. We know she would want us to continue helping those in need, and we remain steadfast in our commitment to doing just that. We will celebrate her life in true Tia Foundation spirit in the weeks to come. We are inspired to continue working hard to honor the legacy that she has left us with.

We cannot express enough gratitude for your support and dedication to our cause. With your continued generosity, Tia can leave an even more profound impression on the lives of those who need it most. Together, we can improve access to healthcare, promote wellness and disease prevention, and ultimately build stronger, healthier communities. We thank you for your support and commitment to our mission.

With love and gratitude,
